

Student Learning Outcomes, Goals, and Objectives

I) Revising SLOs

DIRECTIONS

Revise the following SLOs to make them student centered, observable, measurable, and active.

- 1) The students will understand how to use request strategies.

- 2) The students will demonstrate recognition of the differences between minimal pairs.

- 3) The students will listen to the teacher's lecture about the history of French in North America.

- 4) The students will remember 5 tongue twisters.

- 5) I will teach the students about the difference between English and Korean consonants.

II) Writing SLOs

DIRECTIONS

Imagine you are teaching a lesson about eating at a restaurant. What do you need to consider first? With these in mind, write 5 SLOs following the guidelines we've discussed.
